FAMINE AREAS FREE OF TYPHUS, NEWMAN REPORTS

American Doctor, Authority On Disease, Urges Money Be Expended Otherwise

PRAISES RELIEF WORK

Deplores Alarm Felt For Foreign Workers Among Sufferers; Lauds Missionaries

There is no typhus in famine-stricken areas of Chihli, according to a report made to the International Famine Relief Committee at Peking by Dr. H. C. Newman, who recently made a trip through the region. Dr. Newman, who is on his way back to his duties at the American Baptist Hospital in Swatow, said yesterday that the so-called "typhus" was merely an "attack of nerves" and that he had not been able to find one case of actual typhus in the region.

Dr. Newman directed the fight made against typhus in Western Siberia by the American Red Cross and organised and conducted two of the largest typhus hospitals erected there. He thus has been in contact with thousands of typhus cases and is considered an authority on the disease.

In his report Dr. Newman recommends that money being used to fight what has been regarded as typhus be used in other relief work.

"The people in Northern Shantung and Northern Chihli must be fed until the Fall," Dr. Newman said yesterday. "There will be no Winter wheat because of the drought and these sections will suffer much more than the Southern areas of these provinces. There is no drought in Honan and by the first of June Winter wheat will be available. A smiliar condition exists in South Shantung and South Chihli, where the people will be feeding themselves in three or four weeks."

PRAISES RELIEF WORK

Dr. Newman praised the relief work being done and told of the excellent work being done by Catholic and Protestant missionaries in caring for destitute children. "Practically every missionary is giving his full time to relief work and every mission is maintaining refuge houses for boys and girls," he said.

Grain now being distributed to famine sufferers comes from Harbin and is part of the 1917 crop which has been in storage, Mr. Newman said. It is purchased by the International Relief Committee.

Dr. Newman's report to the International Famine Relief Committee, Peking, follows:

"The middle of April I joined the medical staff of the Famine Relief Committee on Sanitation in Peking, having been invited to come up from Swatow for that purpose. It was decided that I should go down the Peking-Hankow road visiting the stations where work under direction of the committee was being carried on and study in the matter of Typhus prevention in the districts both on and distant from the railroad. I went direct to Shuntefu in southern Chihli.

"Upon the assumption that Typhus had been present in that area and had caused a great many deaths among the refugees, especially in the immediate environs of the city, there had been erected there a delousing plant after the plans of Dr. Ingram and a matshed hospital for the care of fever patients. This delousing plant might very well be used as a model of its kind and the technique of the force at work there might equally well be taught to other squads in the future.

NO GENUINE TYPHUS

"At the time that I arrived the refugee camps had very largely been broken up. After the distribution of grain a month's supply at a time had been established most of the refugees had gone to their own villages. Even the porridge kitchens had almost ceased operation. There were still refugees and there were a good many sick in the temporary fever hospital and on the streets.

"I personally inspected most of the fever patients in the hospital and was able to demonstrate the organism of Relapsing fever under the microscope in suitable cases. There was not a single case that presented that picture of genuine Typhus.

"One day was spent in visiting in company with Chinese members of the medical staff a number of villages distant from the city from three to five li. We visited only those villages whence reports of fever cases had come. The cases proved to be all clinically Relaps-

JAPS PLAN AERO TRIP FROM TOKIO TO MANCHURIA

Chinese Government Makes Stipulations For Crossing Frontier

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 7.—A party of eight Japanese officers and men will fly from Tokio to Changchun in military aeroplanes about the end of this month. The first stop will be at Seoul, but it will be necessary also to land at the frontier of Manchuria for inspection by the Chinese authorities in accordance with an intimation received from the Chinese Government. This second stop will probably be at Antung, but it is not known yet whether a suitable landing-place is available there.

Although this flight is merely a military test, it opens up the question of China's control over aeroplanes from abroad, and it is probable that regulations governing aeroplanes entering China will be at once drawn up by the Chinese Government. These regulations will be drawn up in agreement between the Military, Interior and Customs authorities. Japan has just introduced regulations for aeroplanes entering Japanese territory.

The flight from Tokio to Changchun was originally planned to take place on May 1, but on account of the failure to make the necessary preparations, it has been postponed to the end of this month.

When the Japanese Legation informed the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the proposed flight, the matter was referred to the Aeronautical Department, which at once drew up ten articles which seek to control this flight after the airplanes enter Chinese territory.

These regulations, however, were drawn up for this special flight alone and not for any other foreign airplanes entering China. The nature of this flight was described as a military test flight and as such, the Aeronautical Department stipulated, the machines must not carry any mails, explosives or contraband of war.

All the machines are subject to search by authorised Chinese agents at Antung, the first landing place in China. Before the machines are allowed to proceed, the aviators must provide the authorities with descriptions of all their airplanes and the names, addresses and ages of the pilots and mechanics and sign a pledge that they will land only at places which have been designated by the Peking Government for them.

These regulations have been submitted by the Aeronautical Department to the Ministry of

STEEL MILLS WORKING

Vladivostok, May 5.—The Taganrog steel mills in the Crimea are working full time. The rolling stock factories are especially busy. The mills are supplied with abundant fuel.

Sufficient supplies of provisions are being delivered to the Don Basin. Yesterday 134 carloads of foodstuffs reached the coal region. There are three steamers on the Don River engaged in the distribution of foodstuffs.

There are on the river banks of northern Russia 7,800,000 square feet of wood and 5,659,800 square feet of timber, which are being conveyed down the rivers. Most of the wood and timber were prepared during the winter.

In reply to inquiries made by the Chairman of the Russian Delegation of the Russo-Japanese Committee about the purpose of landing Japanese troops at Decastri, Colonel Yamamoto stated in the name of the Japanese Command that it was done in accordance with the declaration issued by the Japanese Command at Sakhalien on July 3, 1920, in connection with the Nikolayevsk events for which the Japanese Government has not received any compensation.

The Chief of Japanese Military Communications in Vladivostok has demanded the Ussuri Railway Administration to prepare two military trains for conveying Japanese troops to Ugholnaya station on the Ussuri Railway.

AMERICANS ARRIVE

Vladivostok, May 5.—The American delegation to Chita arrived here on the night of April 28. It is headed by the Commercial Attache of the American Legation at Tokio, Mr. James Abbott, and the Assistant Military Attache, Colonel Davis. On Friday the delegation accompanied by the American Consul, Mr. McGowen, called upon the Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Kojenikoff, who is at present in Vladivostok. The members of the delegation had a lengthy conversation with the Vice-Minister. On Saturday Mr. Kojenikoff paid a return visit to the delegation.

As their baggage had not arrived from Tokio, the delegates expressed to Mr. Kojenikoff their desire in visiting Habarovsk. They left on the 1st instant, accompanied by the representative of the Far Eastern Republic, Mr. Yershoff. They will return to Vladivostok tomorrow and proceed to Chita immediately.

CONTINUATION COMMITTEE AIMS TO RESTRICT VICE

Purposes Of Organisation Outlined In Report At Convention

A WORLD MOVEMENT

Rev. Joliffe Says Effects Are Already Felt In Western Provinces

The China Continuation Committee endeavors to co-ordinate the Christian forces in China with a view to assisting the Christian Church to render its contribution to the upbuilding of China. Its social and moral welfare committee, which reported Friday afternoon, endeavors to assist the church to take an agressive attitude towards social and moral problems.

This committee reported that it had prepared special reports on commercialised vice and alcoholism in China.

The China Continuation Committee decided, on recommendation of this committee, to urge in a cablegram the passage of the bill on narcotics now before the United States Congress. The necessity of organising a permanent social and moral welfare commission to carry on the work of this committee was also emphasised.

Saturday morning was devoted to the discussion of the relation of the intellectual awakening in China to the Christian Church. It was shown that this movement is affecting Chinese women equally with men. Chinese women students in this regard fall into three classes: those who superficially adopt radical ideas without understanding them; those who are more or less indifferent as a result of the activity of these radicals, and those who seek to understand and profit thereby.

Dr. Henry Hodgkin, of the Friends' Foreign Missionary Society pointed out that this movement in China is not an isolated phenomenon but closely akin to movements in the West, both in Christian and non-Christian countries.

WORLD MOVEMENT

"It is part of a great World Youth Movement," he said. "While their extreme features must be guarded against, yet of such movements the question may be asked whether they are not the Spirit of God imperfectly expressed in the life of man? The passionate desire of truth which characterises these movements, is God-Given."

Rev. R. O. Joliffe, of Szechuen, also pointed out that the effects of this movement are felt in far distant fields throughout West China.

Saturday afternoon was given to the discussion of the "China for Christ" movement which seeks to stimulate the Christian Church to assist in meeting the spiritual and social needs of China. This organisation started in December, 1919. Through its bulletins of which 300,000 copies have already been sent out, it is growing in influence. There are at least 13 local "China for Christ" organisations in different cities. For the support of this movement the Inter-Church World Movement gave Mex. $21,480.47. This movement seeks to work through the widespread Christian forces which total about 400,000 and constituting the largest single organisation in China.

Special attention was drawn by Miss T. T. Law to an evangelistic campaign held in Canton under the auspices of this movement, as a result of which those who decided to join Bible classes and those who became Christians numbered together 3,000.

COAL MINERS WEAKENING ON NATIONAL POOL ISSUE

New Efforts Likely To Be Put On Foot To End Tie-Up

MEN WANT VOTE

Leaders Convinced Strikers Can Not Win, And Will Compromise

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 7.—On the eve of an anticipated important pronouncement by Mr. Lloyd George on the coal strike, concilation is undoubtedly in the air, and at the beginning of the sixth week of idleness in the mines the whole country is clamouring for a settlement to save the country's stricken industries.

It is estimated that there are five million people out of employment, affecting fifteen millions of women and children.

Meanwhile, the opinion is generally expressed that the Executive of the Miners' Federation will reassemble in the middle of next week.

The morning papers make a feature of the growing strike-weariness on the part of the miners. The public, they state, want to know, in face of the owners' refusal of mediation, why an impartial tribunal should not be given an opportunity to hear why the stoppage is continuing indefinitely, as neither the owners, the Government nor the miners have been elucidatory in this respect.

London, May 7.—The Transport Workers' Federation and the Railwaymen's Union have issued a joint manifesto, which states that the Federation is anxious to assist the miners to settle the existing lock-out, and has therefore ordered all its members engaged in loading, discharging and manning ships bringing coal to Great Britain to refuse to work foreign coal.

If the use of military and naval forces breaks the Federation's embargo, the manifesto calls on the Railwaymen's Union to refuse to move foreign coal. The Federation declares that in this respect the stoppage of labor at the Clyde dock is already complete.

London, May 9.—There is a growing feeling that this week will witness a fresh effort to end the coal deadlock. The miners' leaders appear to be convinced at last that the country is behind the Government, and that until the demand for a national pool is dropped a settlement will be impossible.

The newspapers make a feature of Mr. Lloyd George's pointed analogy of the pool that the miners are demanding, viz. "that it would be like compelling the 'Daily Mail' to make up the losses of the 'Daily Herald.'"

The opinion is advanced that the men's leaders are veering round to the view that there ought to be a ballot, and the demand made during the week-end by Mr. Herbert Smith, President of the Miners' Federation, for "an honorable settlement" is interpreted to mean that he is convinced that the miners cannot win, and must find a way back to work which will save the Executive's face.

FANNIE HURST

Author and Motion Picture Scenario Writer Who Earns Over $25,000 A Year

Fannie Hurst sold her first story in 1912 for $5. Today the products of her pen bring in far more than $25,000 a year; in fact, probably several times that amount. Her story, "Just Around the Corner," published in 1914, was her first big success. She has written novels, plays, short stories and scenarios. At one time to secure material for a story she crossed the Atlantic as a passenger in the steerage. On another occasion she studied the life of a shop girl by working in a department store. She is one of three writers whose short stories command top prices.

Healing Mission Holds Impressive Ceremony At Holy Trinity Church

BY ELSIE McCORMICK

One of the most impressive religious services ever held in Shanghai took place yesterday morning at Holy Trinity Cathedral, when Mr. J. M. Hickson, with Bishop Molony, Sub-Dean C. E. Spencer and Reverend W. Robbins, formally opened the Christian Healing Mission.

Long before ten o'clock, the hour set for the beginning of the service, the sick and their intercessors began to arrive at the cathedral. A few, too ill to walk, were carried to the choir stalls. Others took their places in a roped-off section on the main aisle. Seated behind them were those who came as intercessors, to pray for the relief of suffering friends or relatives. Pews in the transept and on the farther aisles were reserved for the general congregation.

Women predominated, owing perhaps to the fact that the hour made it inconvenient for men to attend. Missionaries of many creeds, members of the business community, and a scattering of Chinese and Japanese were included in the congregation. The service was more than Anglican—its appeal was not limited by racial or denominational lines. It began simply with the recital of the Lord's Prayer, followed by the hymn "How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds" and a few special collects for the sick. Then Mr. Hickson, robed in a white surplice, explained during a brief and moving address the objects of the mission and the meaning of spiritual healing.

The speaker made clear the point that he claimed no power within himself—he was merely the channel through which the strength of Christ flowed to relieve the suffering of those who turned to Him in faith. The gift of healing which the church was commanded to administer had been so neglected since the early centuries of Christian history that it had fallen into almost complete disuse.

NO NEW DOCTRINE

"I preach no new doctrine; I bring to you nothing which is not already in the Scriptures," Mr. Hickson said, "because the church failed in the ministry of healing, many of her members have turned away to seek light in other theories and beliefs. Spiritual healing is not Christian Science, for Christian Science denies the reality of sin and disease, nor is it suggestion, for suggestion means the stirring up of power within one's self, while spiritual healing implies the gift of strength from a divine source. I do not teach that medical science is to be despised, for God works in many ways and the curative forces in the material world are His creations, just as is the divine force that so often brings relief to the faithful.

"Disease does not come from God. He who says that such affliction is a visitation from Heaven dishonors his Creator. Is not the will of God to heal the sick—without distinction, without exception—fully revealed to us in those mighty works of compassion and love which Christ performed during his life in this world? Have we in the Gospel any ground at all for imagining that God intends some people to suffer disease so that they may be benefited spiritually? What earthly father, however unloving and ungodly, would inoculate his child with an affliction like tuberculosis or cancer as a punishment? Yet this, it seems, is the kind of punishment which many Christians imagine our Heavenly Father inflicts upon His children. God sent Christ to redeem the

Knox Peace Resolution To Be Shelved For Time Being

ONLY 2 MORE DAYS

Ultimatum Becomes Effective Tomorrow—Poles Fighting

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, May 7.—In view of the new policy towards Europe, the leaders of the House of Representatives opine that Senator Knox's peace resolution will be shelved and declare that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee favors such a course until the larger problems arising out of the war have been cleared up.

It is now stated that Colonel Harvey, the American Ambassador to Great Britain, will be empowered to initiate such discussions in the Supreme Council as the President directs and also to participate in the deliberations. It is expected that when the Council meets the question of mandates will be taken up in the light of Secretary of State Hughes's recent note.

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

New York, May 7.—According to a Berlin telegram, the Reichstag has adopted a bill providing for the trial of the war criminals named in the Entente list, and even where the evidence is insufficient or their innocence is established, to place the indictments on record.

New York, May 7.—According to a London advice, the Supreme Council decided to take no naval action against Germany without first consulting the United States.

London, May 9.—There are now only two days to run for the Allied ultimatum to Germany, while the state of affairs in Silesia gravely complicates the international situation. It is reported that German troops are being hurried from Berlin to Silesia, and that the outbreaks there may be made the excuse for military intervention, and also for delaying the carrying out of the ultimatum. The German Socialists are already declaiming against a "new war."

Paris, May 5 (delayed).—The National Union of Ex-service Men has telegraphed to M. Briand in London an expression of the fullest confidence and a promise of its support in his endeavor to make Germany pay for the ruin of thousands of French homes and the devastation of some of France's fairest provinces.

Paris, May 8.—The newspapers here state that the Ambassadors' Conference has considered the British proposal to assign the Upper Silesian districts of Pless and Rybnik to Poland, and the districts on the left bank of the Oder to Germany, the disputed industrial area to remain under Allied administration.

A decision has not yet been reached, but the adoption of the proposal seems improbable.

ITALIAN INTEREST CLAIMED IN CASE OF BIG OPIUM HAUL

Ask Remand For Chinese Caught With 177 Pounds Of Drug

The bugbear of "Italian interests" loomed up in another opium case yesterday following the seizure by the Municipal police of 117 pounds of the drug—over $10,000 worth—which was being transported on a wheelbarrow along the Canton Road.

The seizure was made Sunday morning when two Chinese police constables noticed the barrow being followed by a crowd of loafers, who, it later was found out, had gained knowledge of the cargo. A Chinese named Sung Ah-nyi who was escorting the load was brought to Central station and told the police that he had been requested by a friend to report at the Ewo jetty early that morning and receive two baskets which were to be delivered at a Canton Road lodging house.

When the case was called before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan in the Mixed Court yesterday Mr. L. K. Kentwell, appearing for the accused, stated that he understood Inspector Wheeler had received a letter to the effect that there were Italian interests and asking that the hearing be remanded for the Italian Assessor.

Inspector Wheeler told the Court that he had received a letter from the Italian Consul with regard to a certain matter but that the names given in the letter were altogether different to that of the defendant in this action.

"This letter," the Assessor said, "states that the two men mentioned are registered in the Italian Consulate. Do you mean to say that the prisoner in the dock is an Italian subject?"

"I understand," replied Mr. Kentwell, "that his firm is registered in the Italian Consulate."

He added that he had interviewed the prisoner and that the latter admitted being in possession of the opium.

"The Italian Consul's letter is in reference to a man named Chen Sz-chin and a man named Yen Mok-ling," commented the Assessor.

"Yes," replied counsel for the defendant, "he has two names. These facts I now place before the Court which I have taken from him will prove that this is the man all right."

"You did not tell me he had two names this morning," said Inspector Wheeler to the attorney.

"You did not know anything about the name on the charge sheet."

Sub-Inspector Wilson gave evidence regarding the arrest, stating that when brought to the charge room the defendant had declared he got the opium from a man named Nyi Kai at the Ewo jetty.

"I am very sorry," remarked the Assessor, "but I am afraid I must remand the case for Captain Ferrajolo, and if he states that this is not the man, then I will take jurisdiction in the matter."

Inspector Wheeler again commented upon Mr. Kentwell's not having known anything regarding the name of the man charged when he was at the office in the morning and pointed out that there were many persons before the Court charged with being in possession of opium and that this might not be the man referred to at all.

The Assessor repeated that he must remand the case, but with the assurance that he would take jurisdiction if the Italian Assessor state that the defendant is not the man referred to in the letter.

Mr. Kentwell then asked for bail for his client.

"I will leave that to Captain Ferrajolo," ruled the Assessor.

The letter sent from the Italian Consulate and signed by Captain Ferrajolo was as follows:

"With reference to the said Chen Sz-chin and Yen Mok-ling of L-121 Canton Road, duly registered in the Italian Consulate-General, please have them remanded before the Italian Assessor. Italian interests being involved in the case."

The Waring Company

The Warings who performed She Stoops to Conquer at the Lyceum Theater yesterday evening were engaged in a bold and hazardous undertaking.

There are few plays the reception of which is more dependent upon acting and management, upon the ever-changeable temper of the audience, and to certain degree on accident, than this famous comedy.

The improbabilities of the plot are self-evident, and the principal characters require the most delicate handling to prevent them over-stepping the bounds of truth, nature, and propriety.

The young squire, the mother's darling, verges on caricature; the forwardness of the heroine in securing a husband must be carefully shaded not to be declared out of keeping in a well-bred young lady; and it is difficult to conceive a young man of birth, cultivation, and refinement like young Marlow swaggering like a bagman and taking rude liberties with a decent young woman whom he was too shy to look in the face when he supposed her to belong to his own class in life.

These dangers and difficulties enhance the pleasure and merit of success, and when I say that yesterday evening's representation was eminently successful, I am paying the highest compliment to the performers who principally contributed to this result.

Foremost among these was Miss Edith Smith who played Kate, and who charmed us with her girlish verve, her fascinating smile, her musical laugh, her graceful poise, and her finished manner.

There were some present who had seen half a dozen Kate Hardcastles who were astonished at the ease with which Miss Edith Smith glided into the part, the accuracy of the conception, and the felicity of her execution throughout.

The Tony Lumpkin of Mr. Christian Morrow provided continuous merriment and he worked hard for the amusement of his audience, and succeeded.

Mr. Charles Quartermaine was young marlow and, speaking frankly, having seen his Comte de Candale on Saturday evening in "A Marriage of Convenience"—a play of the same period as Goldsmith's—one cannot help comparing his brilliant Comte of the French comedy with the somewhat inconceivable young blood of Goldsmith's conception—to the detriment of the dramatist, and not of the actor, be it said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardcastle played by Mr. Wordley Hulse and Miss Alys Rees were amusing and pleasing, particularly Mr. Hardcastle's "Oh, thank you, Mr. Hastings," and Hastings (Mr. James Jolley) played up well to Mrs. Hardcastle in this absurd duet. I think the Miss Neville of Miss May Halfatt was very adequately done for it required an actress of experience to safely navigate the schools of fooling with Tony Lumpkin.

For pure characterisation the Stingo of Mr. Frank Vosper, who doubled this part with Diggory, the country of turned footman, merits a special word of comment.

I fancy his Diggory gagged somewhat anent his Militia experiences but they were good gags and got home with the audience every time. Mr. Vosper has thought out his parts and uses his brains with advantage to the play, the audience, and himself.

I suspect myself of harboring an undoubted preference for the rapier-like repartee of Dumas fils to the rather far fetched humor of Goldsmith, but then I have always preferred a slight portion of a well hung pheasant to a helping of roast mutton, and as Oliver Goldsmith has been dead as mutton these many years the only reflection in this interpolation, that can possibly harm anyone, is upon—myself!

Oliver Goldsmith wrote the play in 1771 and it was originally produced in 1773 at Covent Garden, under the management of Coleman, who curiously enough foretold a failure.

His fears and doubts were contagious, for his leading people threw up their parts during rehearsals.

So alarming was the defection that some of Goldsmith's friends urged withdrawal, or at the least postponement.

"No," he gallantly replied, "I'd rather my play were damned by bad acting than merely saved by good."

He was wrong there. His play was saved by good acting, and would most assuredly have been damned by bad.

And the same holds good in 1921 at Shanghai, in the era of the aeroplane, as it did in 1773 at London, in the age of the stage coach.

I congratulate Mr. Waring and his players, and in doing so cannot improve on what Dr. Johnson said, when Boswell was present, on "She Stoops to Conquer" being mentioned: "I know of no comedy for many years that has so much exhilarated an audience, that has answered so much the great end of comedy—making an audience merry."

It may be added, that Dr. Johnson had not the advantage in 1773 of seeing such good comedies as we folks who are still alive in 1921. These days are really some improvement on "the good old days," perhaps?

"Ann," the delightful farce recently staged by the A. D. C., will be presented by the Waring Company in the presence of Sir Beilby Alston, the British Minister, and party, tonight at the Lyceum Theater.

In view of the popularity of the company since its appearance here last week and the presence of the distinguished audience, a full house is anticipated.

Peking, May 9.—Dr. C. T. Wang has accepted an invitation to come to Peking, and Dr. Yen has suggested his appointment as China's representative on the International Court of Arbitration at the Hague, which post is rendered vacant by the transfer of the Chinese Minister, Tang Tsai-fu, to Rome. A mandate to this effect is now in course of preparation, and if Dr. Wang accepts he will also be asked to take up the revision of the Sino-Dutch treaty relating to Chinese residents in the Dutch colonies and Dutch residents in China.

It is reported that the suggested changes in the cabinet have not met with the unqualified approval of the President, and that further discussions will be held.

Foreign Affairs and approved by the Cabinet. Copies have been forwarded to the Japanese Legation. It is understood that the Japanese Government has accepted these regulations.

Commander T. S. Chu, who was sent down here to represent the Government to welcome the Italian aviators last year, has been commissioned to head a delegation to Changchun to extend the greetings of the government to the air squadron and will officially carry out the regulations as promulgated by the Cabinet.

China had already signed the Air Convention at the Peace Conference, where she was represented by Dr. Wellington Koo, but it was not until last month that the Cabinet formally sanctioned the convention. Foreign airplanes entering China will hereafter be governed by the regulations of the Versailles Air Convention.

"Times" Scoffs At Near East Scheme

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 9.—The Times, in a leader this morning, refers to the apparently inspired forecast of Mr. Winston Churchill's program for the Middle East published by the Daily Telegraph last week, which it epitomises as the grandiose scheme of Pan-Arabian dreamers.

It says that if there is any foundation for the ascription of the plans to Mr. Churchill he is dangerously misled and his projects would involve Great Britain and possibly the whole British Empire in illimitable risks, as no scheme for a united Arabia can ever succeed if Ibn Soud, the ruler of Nejd, is left out of it.

In any case, the Times continues, the Arab chieftains are torn by mutual jealousies and it would be playing with fire and asking for another siege like that of Kut to establish a big air station in Mesopotamia and leave it under the protection of a lonely brigade, far from the sea.

League To Ask All Nations To Approve Opium Agreement

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, May 8.—Before concluding its sittings, the Anti-Opium Commission decided to request the League of Nations to invite its members, and the other nations through Holland, to ratify the Hague Convention dealing with the opium traffic. Persia will be asked to reconsider the reservations she has hitherto made in this connection. A number of recommendations have also been drawn up with a view to strengthening the Convention as regards its application to the use of opium, morphine and similar drugs for medical purposes.

It is hoped that an inquiry may be made into the opium situation in China, in order to verify the information already received, and with a view to the submission of a report on the subject to the next meeting of the Commission and of further recommendations to the League of Nations.

Geneva, May 7.—At the final sitting of the Opium Commission, Sir John Jordan, the British representative, stated that he was convinced China would rid herself of the opium plague if she received loyal assistance, but so long as the Hague Convention permitted the contracting parties to cultivate any amount of opium, an application of the provisions of the Convention would not abolish the use of opium in China.

Mr. Campbell, representing India, expressed the opinion that it would be preferable to ensure the application of the present Convention before drafting another.

Mrs. Hamilton Wright (America) supported Sir John Jordan, while Sir Malcolm Delevigne (Great Britain) said that the Commission would be better able to discuss the methods of improving the Hague Convention after the replies had been receivd to its questionnaire. Meanwhile, he suggested, the Commission should supervise the application of the Convention.

The majority of the Commission agreed with Sir Malcolm. The next meeting of the Commission will be held in February, 1922.

Ship Movements In U.S. Remain Satisfactory, Despite Walkout

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, May 7.—The reopening of negotiations among the Shipping Board, the owners and workers, in an effort to settle the wage dispute, is indicated as probable by Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, announcing a conference.

Reports to the Shipping Board indicate that ship movements generally are satisfactory, despite the lockout, at New York and Baltimore. There has been some difficulty in recruiting crews at Pacific ports, but no difficulty at Norfolk, Havanna and Charleston. At Galveston shipping is tied up.

Mr. Davis, Secretary of Labor, has reported to the Cabinet that he is hopeful as to the progress of the efforts to end the dispute.

Healing Mission At Trinity Church

world from the suffering and corruption brought about by the forces of darkness seeking to destroy mankind.

"In reviving the ministry of healing in the church, we must not expect cures to take place suddenly, though this sometimes does occur. The process is usually gradual, just as spiritual conversion effects by degrees the rebuilding of the soul. Though some receive the full light of divine revelation in a flash, such an occurence is exceptional. Many must water the seed with their tears and await the slow growth that precedes its fruition."

SILENT PRAYER

A period of silent prayer followed Mr. Hickson's address. Then, aided by sisters from the Victoria Nursing Home and other women in the white professional uniforms, the sick came forward to the altar rail. Some, hardly able to walk, painfully dragged themselves up to the chancel; some were supported by friends; and one crippled child was carried by his father. Others, apparently in good health, took their places with those obviously ill to await the touch of the healer. Mr. Hickson proceeded slowly down the line of sufferers, laying his hands on each one as he prayed. He was followed by Bishop Molony, who gave his blessing to the suppliant praying for their welfare, spiritual and physical. About 250 people came forward to the altar rail, and though there were no spectacular cures, those who sought aid turned back with radiant faces. At the conclusion of the healing, anyone desiring spiritual blessing was asked to come to the chancel, and practically the entire congregation responded. The service closed with the singing of the Doxology and the pronouncing of the benediction by the bishop. Mr. Hickson will hold similar services at 5:30 p.m. today and Wednesday, tickets for which may be secured at the Cathedral.

The appearance of Mr. J. M. Hickson suggests in no way the visionary or fanatic. A passer-by on the street would judge him to be a practical business man. In conversation however, the power of his voice, the quiet strength of his presence, and the unwavering belief in his mission stamp him as a man of unique personality. Mr. Hickson disclaims any power within himself, and both his writings and addresses are remarkable for the absence of stress laid upon the usually overworked pronoun. To induce Mr. Hickson to talk of himself is difficult as his policy is always to subordinate the man to the work.

"When I was about fourteen years old, my cousin was suffering from a very severe attack of neuralgia," Mr. Hickson told the writer. "A voice seemed to command me to lay my hands upon her with prayer, and though I had never heard of such a thing outside of the Gospel, I obeyed. She was relieved at once. The next day I had a similar experience with her sister, who had been suffering from twitching of the face. Twenty-two years ago, I began my mission of healing, later giving up my business career that I might devote all my time and strength to it."

OLD CHURCH WORKER

For many years Mr. Hickson worked quietly in the Church of England, combating prejudice, preaching a simple apostolic faith, and helping those who appealed to him for aid. He has never been ordained, preferring to work as a layman without clerical caste. The vision of a world mission came to him only a few years ago, and began with a visit to America in 1919. Conservative Trinity Church in New York City opened its doors to him, and the results of his mission were such that the General Convention of the Episcopal Church, meeting in Detroit, appointed a commission to consider the revival of the ministry of healing. In India, which Mr. Hickson recently visited, meetings numbering over 15,000 people were held in several centers. Parsees, Syrian Christians, and foreigners knelt together to receive the touch of the healer and the blessing of the church.

Mr. Hickson stated that he feels no strain or depletion of energy as the result of the meetings. "It is not as if I were drawing on my own strength," he said, "I am only the channel and the Source cannot be exhausted. At the end of a service I feel not weary but refreshed. Certain doctors who had attended several meetings remarked to me that they could not understand how I did it without a breakdown. I told them that it ought to be obvious to them by this time that I did not do it."

Though there are many who feel that the church is treading on dangerous ground when it seeks to revive its ancient ministry and though there are many who believe that a spiritual cure is impossible in any case, no one who attended the service yesterday morning could have failed to be touched by its appeal to simple faith, a faith that seemed to ring as a distant echo from the shores of Galilee.

China Merchants Launch New River Steamer Today

The China Merchants Steam Navigation company will launch their new passenger steamer, the Kiang-shun, sister ship to the Kiang-an this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock from the docks of the Shanghai Dock and Engineering company at Pootung.

The Kiangshun is a twin screw, steel steamer, of the most modern passenger and freight type. It measures 340 feet overall, and has a breadth overguard of 58 feet.

The new steamer, when completely fitted up for service, will join her sister ship in the Shanghai-Hankow river service, and will bring up the China Merchants' Hankow fleet to a total of six vessels.

Among the passengers arriving yesterday on the C.P.O.S. steamer Empress of Japan from Vancouver were Messrs. E. T. Byrne, A. C. Lee, C. B. W. Moore, L. H. Palmer, S. Ward, J. A. Murphy, P. Jamieson, H. B. Lilley and Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Paul. The Empress also had among its passengers Messrs. J. D. Barton, and H. D. Campbell, for Hongkong.

Harding Moves For Department Economy

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, May 6.—President Harding has launched a drive against what he termed the dangerous tendency of Government Departments to live beyond the means provided by Congress, and to submit requests for appropriations to cover their deficits. The President has written to all members of the Cabinet on the subject.

11 Dead In Week End Fighting In Ireland

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 9.—There were a number of shooting affairs and rebel ambushes in Ireland during the week-end, as the result of which five police and six civilians were killed. There was also a two hours' battle with Sinn Feiners in the mountains of County Cavan, which ended in the capture of nine rebels.

London, May 7.—Mr. Lloyd George, speaking at Maidstone under the auspices of the local Unionist Association, pleaded for the continuance of co-operation among all lovers of their country. It was a good sign that the two Irish leaders had been in conference.

The fact that a bitter conflict in the coal industry had lasted for weeks without any unpleasant episodes occurring showed the country's good sense. He denied that there was a conspiracy on foot to reduce wages. He declared that the idea of a national pool, if applied to all industries, would destroy incentive throughout the country.

The Premier asserted that the Miners' Federation was trying to starve the country into an injudicious settlement, and he appealed to the nation to endure with that stubborn courage which had surmounted worse troubles in the past.

ing fever with not one case of Typhus.

"From Dr. Dickson of the American Presbyterian Hospital, who has been in charge also of the temporary fever hospital, I learned that he had not made a positive diagnosis of Typhus Exanthematicus in any single case even during the months of greatest fever incidence and mortality.

TRAVELS 300 LI

"With the idea of looking into the fever conditions more remote from the railway I arranged a trip to the east from Shuntefu, being advised by members of the local missionary body that the centers in the direction of Wei Hsien would prove typical or at least as bad as any from the point of view of famine and disease.

"I am indebted to Mr. Janness of Shuntefu for having conducted this trip to Wei Hsien and back. We spent four days on the trip and visited three Hsien cities, Kuang Tsung, Wei and Jen, making shorter stops also at many other smaller places.

"As a result of careful enquiries both of people in general and of persons connected with mission chapels we were unable to find any cases of fever at all, either Relapsing fever or Typhus in any of these places visited between Shuntefu and Wei Hsien; we went out by one road and returned by a different route. The distance covered was something over three hundred li.

"Noting the conditions in and about Shuntefu where since the fall there have been concentrations of refugees living, many under the most unfavorable conditions, and having in mind the wide and quick spread of Typhus under like conditions when Typhus has actually been present, it seems safe to conclude that there has in all probability been no Typhus present and that there is not any likelihood at all that there will develop any outbreak of Typhus in that district this season.

"In returning to Peking I spent one day at Shihkiachuang and made many inquiries about fever conditions both among refugees and among the permanent population. There seems to be very little sickness of any sort and I could find no evidence whatever that there had been any Typhus there this season.

NOT SERIOUS FACTOR

"These findings seem to correspond closely with what is reported from Paotingfu where Typhus is generally considered to be endemic. They have seen two or three cases. And from other points in southern Chihli there are no more confirmatory reports of the actual presence of Typhus. In Peking through the courtesy of Dr. Korns I was shown one case of typical Typhus in fever in the medical college hospital and saw also two or three other cases in convalescent stage with history of Typhus. This is perhaps not much more than any ordinary season might be expected to bring to any large hospital in Peking.

"In view of what I have learned I am forced to consider that Typhus is not a serious present factor in the famine situation in Peking or southern Chihli and to deplore, as well, the apparent feeling of alarm for the physical safety of foreign workers in famine relief.

"In this connection I can say that in the few weeks that I have been in Chihli, traveling on trains, in carts and rickshas as well as by horse and sleeping in country chapels and eating about in country inns, going about into villages and personally examining the sick, taking axillary temperatures and palpating radial pulses, I have not seen nor have I been aware of one louse.

URGES CUT IN EXPENSES

"I have recommended to the Committee on Sanitation that the large overhead expense of the field force under its direction and the considerable expense being incurred in fitting out famine relief workers in general with supposedly louse-proof outfits of leather and khaki be immediately cut to a very low figure and that what portion may by now be left of the $100,000 recently appropriated for the work of the committee be conserved and either carried over for some later actual sanitary emergency connected with the famine or turned into some branch of famine relief work where there is urgent need. Of such needs there can be no doubt. Of the wisdom of spending large sums of famine relief money in anti-Typhus measures at the present time there is very grave doubt indeed.

Respectfully submitted,
H. W. NEWMAN.

The mission has now reported to the Bureau that they have obtained 200,000 piculs of seed grain of various kinds from Manchuria.

PLAN INTERPORT TENNIS; ANNOUNCE NEW CUP SERIES BETWEEN ENGLAND AND U.S.

Lawn Tennis Association, At Annual Meeting, Outlines Program For Year; Judge Skinner Turner Re-elected President; Other Officers Chosen

The 1921 program of play as controlled by the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association was outlined yesterday at its annual meeting held at the Cathedral School. The play aside from the usual events the league competition and the cup competitions already established, will include play in a special cup series between doubles representing America and England and at least one interport game to be played in Shanghai.

Approximate times for the playing of the events were set as follows:

Mixed doubles, end of May; ladies' doubles, beginning of June; ladies' singles, middle of June; Hong doubles, beginning of July; Tennis League, start in end of July; and the men's singles and doubles for the middle of September.

The new cup to be played for between America and England in doubles was obtained through subscription gotten up chiefly by Capt. E. I. M. Barrett of the Shanghai Cricket club, in memory of the late Mr. Gordon Roper, formerly of the American Trading Co., here. Details of play and selections of players for this event will be arranged later by the new committee.

It is expected that this year will see the same six clubs entered in the League play, as participated in 1920. The teams last year represented the Portuguese Sporting Association, the Country Club, the Columbia Country Club, the Recreation Club, the Cricket Club, the Cercle Sportif Francais.

Interport play it is hoped will see, aside from the return match with Hongkong, which is expected now to be a certainty, at least one more series with Peking, Tientsin, or Hankow. All of these cities will have big sporting contingents in Shanghai during the Far Eastern games and it is hoped that a second series of interport tennis may be arranged. Hongkong already has two of its tennis interporters booked for Far Eastern sports and a letter has been written asking that their team be filled out for play. The same situation may develop from the North China sport contingents.

The report and balance of accounts which were both considered satisfactory in spite of additional expense last year, were unanimously adopted.

Judge Skinner Turner was re-elected as president of the association, and Dr. J. E. Murray as vice president. Mr. M. B. Brown, who filled out the last half of Mr. A. H. George's term as honorary secretary and treasurer in 1920, was elected to fill the post for this year. The new committee will be elected by the clubs composing the association.

BASEBALL PRACTICE

If the Race Course grounds are open this afternoon there will be baseball practice. Fair weather will bring a practice session tomorrow, anyway, and there will be daily workouts until Saturday, when it is hoped to play a sailor team. Manager Knowlan hopes to have the stands ready for games to be played this week end.

SAYS "BUGS" Baer: ACCIDENT SAVES TITLE FOR GINK

Trapeze Busts And Roughtown's Civic Pride Turns Sour On History's Digestion

BY 'BUGS' BAER

Mistur Baer:

Allow me to toss a match in Gink Fowler's hayloft. My man Swipes Bumm knocked him loose from his hinges. Swipes sideswiped Gink right on the chininsula with a handful of loose knuckles and Gink went away from there pronto. You know what a chininsula is? It is a neck of chin protruding out into a large body of hostile fists.

Yours until the Standard Oil pays that $29,000,000 fine.

BLACKIE GREEN,
The Bron.

That name Bumm sounds familiar. Something like a relative or something. Or a merry morning greeting from the officer on the beat. There was a Swipes Bumm who stalled around Roughtown for a few compulsory years. But he was only a souse frisker and never had the entree into Roughtown's select circles of swallowtailed yeggs.

We remember well the afternoon that Gink got married. The best man had to pick the lock to get into the abbatoir where the wedding was held. They couldn't find the ring because the Roughtown sheriff was using it for handcuffs. Gink gave the bride a beautiful rough cut engagement ring. That was in 1871. This year that unblushing bride celebrates the glass anniversary of that diamond ring. What good is money, real estate and wealth if there be no sentiment?

The minister asked Gink the usual questionnaire and Gink pleaded self-defense. Gink paid the fee from a suburban bankroll of oak leaves. Five minutes later the Gink Fowlers were seated at the ringside. Gink was to meet Swipes Bumm for the championship of two precincts. The Canary Islands and the Yellow Sea.

The battle was held up a few weeks while a high-powered electrician was paged in Sing Sing. Owing to his early training in Roughtown, Gink could not perch comfortably on any chair that wasn't wired. They wired the bench in Gink's corner and threw 300,000 sparkling volts into the champ. He inhaled the insurance collecting current and smiled like a elephant that had just learned his uncle had croaked and left him a peanut stand, whistle and all.

There was some misunderstanding about the rules. Gink favored six laps to the mile, but Swipes held out for the original old English laws that stated that all whales cast up on the beach were the property of the King. The fight was terrific right up until the opening of the first round. Gink did some eccentric dancing while Swipes tore off fifteen minutes of smart sayings and wise cracks. Then they teamed on the Swiss bellringing act. Just when Gink was going to switch on the works, the trapeze busted. It was anybody's fight up to then, with no claimants among the audience.

By a clever piece of footwork in the eighteenth round, Gink pulled a rabbit out of his glove. By that time the moving picture machine was cooled off and Gink took a seat in the mezzanine. After six reels depicting Douglas Hart Bushman, Gink again took up the cudgels in behalf of community drinking and his powerful oratory swayed the mob. Words by the Kulux Kulux Committee on Appropriations. Gestures by St. Vitus. This fight was as one-sided as the billiard balls in a country poolroom.

The Roughtown Board of Education censured Gink by not permitting him to look under chairs for chewing gum for thirty days.

He also regretted the absence of an old friend of the Engineers in Mr. John Prentice, who has, for years, presented the prizes for the Veteran Sappers Event.

ALL-DAY DOINGS STAGED SUNDAY BY LAWN BOWLERS

Auspicious Opening Of New Season Is Seen By Recs' President

The Shanghai Recreation Club were at home to their many friends on Sunday when they opened their season with an all-day stunt. A lot of interest was taken in the new green which is looking wonderfully well but the committee have decided not to use it until near the close of the season—a wise decision.

The days program consisted of a club pairs Handicap of 7 ends, and a drawing to the yack competion for which two prizes were given, one being for the visitor having the highest score.

Mr. E. E. Lever, President of the Club welcomed the visitors and remarked that it was good to see the season open so auspiciously and in the coming games the Recs would endeavor to, at least, give their opponents a hard fight.

The following is the result of the competitions: "Pairs" handicap.

1st Messrs. A. Eek and C. W. Landers.
2nd Messrs. S. Poignand and C. Woods. Drawing Competition, "Visitors."
1st Albert Taylor.
1st J. McAllum. Drawing Competition. "Members."
1st G. B. Stormes.
2nd G. Wootton.

Mrs. E. E. Lever kindly presented the prizes.

I understand the Lawn Bowls club will open their season next week end, and the 22nd will see the inter-club games in full progress. Lawn bowlers will be interested to know that the Association have passed the following rule: "Competitors for the open championships shall not be allowed to enter from any club, other than that which such competitors play for in the Inter-club games."

SUMMER IS COMING

With baseball, cricket, lawn bowls, rowing and tennis under way, local sportsmen are hoping for fair weather so that the various teams may get into shape for interport games to be played here late this month and early in June. It is planned to hold interport games with cricketers, baseball teams, at least one polo team, tennis players, possibly crews and lawn bowlers from other cities.

Sunday, Summerish as could be, gave plenty of opportunity for practice and play. The least said about yesterday, the better.

Mr. Quayle is in Japan on his honeymoon but will return at the end of the week.

The cricketers were divided up into two teams, one under the captaincy of Capt. E. I. M. Barrett, and the other commanded by Dr. W. O'Hara.

Every man scheduled to play was given his chance at the wickets, and practically all of the bowlers were given an opportunity of working their arms. The game resulted 109—104 in favor of Dr. O'Hara's team.

During the practice most of Captain Barrett's players gave up their bats so as not to prolong the game, and thus restricting the opposing players to short innings. There were, in consequence no sensational performances. Bowling was ordinary and batting could not be judged because of the practice nature of the play.

The Shanghai candidates show excellent form for early season practice, and with a month and half in which to develop, it is expected that a team of first quality can be selected to oppose the Hongkong men.

Mr. Billings, bowling for Capt. Barrett's team Sunday showed in good form. He fetched four wickets for 24 runs. Mr. Tippin also did well, fetching three wickets for 27 runs. R. L. B. Wodehouse, an ex-Hongkong man was among the players yesterday. He played with Dr. O'Hara's team.

Following is the bowling analysis:

WOMAN'S CLUB TO FETE GOBS ON 21ST OF MAY

Picnic For Sailors To Be Held At Hongkew; Call Sounded For Chow

American sailors in port on May twenty-first will be guests of honor at a picnic and field meet which the American Woman's Club will give in Hongkew Park with the co-operation of the Navy Y.M.C.A. A program of games and entertainment will start at three o'clock, to be followed by a picnic supper at five.

All members of the club and their families are asked to attend if possible, each hostess providing refreshments for five sailors. Sandwiches, salad, baked beans, pie, cake and doughnuts are recommended as entries in the food meet, though hostesses may select their own menus. By no means, however, should the digestion-destroying pickle be omitted, a sailor's appetite for them being equal to that of a boarding-school girl.

Those willing to undertake the heroic task of feeding five hungry gobs are asked to telephone to Mrs. Gardner Crane, Central 360, or address 18 Yuen Ming Yuen Road. Refreshments may be sent to Hongkew Park and committed to the care of Mrs. S. M. Cowles at the baseball grandstand. They should be delivered by three o'clock if possible.

In the event of rain or threatening weather, the affair will take the form of an indoor entertainment at the Carlton Cafe, which through the courtesy of Manager Ellis will be available without charge from 3 to 7 p.m. of May twenty-first.

Music will be furnished by the orchestras of the U.S.S. Huron and New Orleans.

New Benevolent Institution To Open On May 18

The opening exercises of the Shanghai Benevolent Industrial Institution will be held at 11 Kiaochow Road on Wednesday, May 18, between 2 and 7 o'clock. The program will begin with performances by the pupils. At 4 o'clock, tea and refreshments will be served. The boy scouts will give an exhibition at 5 o'clock, after which a program of speeches will be given.

The institution is founded by the Chou Wei Guild. The committee of the institution consists of Dr. Herbert Chatley, chairman; D. E. J. Abraham, honorary treasurer and Messrs. Kwoh Tsu-ping, Cheng Chi-ting, Ma I-cheng and Kwok Chu-chiao. Mr. George B. Fryer, head of the Institute for the Chinese Blind, is director and secretary, while Mr. Loh Kwei-ling is assistant director.

THINGS EVERY MOTHER NEEDS TO KNOW

Little ones could easily be saved many of the aches and ills which come in infancy, if mothers would remember three important things:—First, teach your bady regular habits. Secondly, see that his feeding utensils are clean and that he has plenty of fresh air out of doors. Thirdly, keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house ready for immediate use in case baby gets constipated, feverish, or is troubled with indigestion, colic, diarrhoea, croup or teething pains.

Mrs. James Levere, of Spencerville, Ontario, Canada, says:— "I believe Baby's Own Tablets saved my baby's life, and I would not be without them."

Mrs. A. H. Waite, of 1207 Fremont Avenue, North Minneapolis, U. S. A., writes:— "My last baby was sickly from birth and the benefit that Baby's Own Tablets have afforded is simply wonderful. They do all that is claimed for them, and more."

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian specific for infants and children, are obtainable from all chemists, also post free at 60 cents the vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Philippine National Pays Claim, Ends Suit

A motion for judgment by default in the case of Joseph Brothers versus the Philippine National Bank was withdrawn yesterday in the United States Court for China when it came up for argument. The suit was based on a claim for £25,000 alleged to be due and when the motion was withdrawn yesterday by Attorneys H. D. Rodger and A. du Pac de Marsoulies, who appeared for Joseph Brothers, it was announced that the claim had been settled.

Charge Of Assault Made Against C.P.C.; Mates Ask Release

A Chinese cook found lying in an alleyway off Chusan Road early Sunday morning was brought into Wayside station and stated to the police that he had been set upon and beaten by Chinese police constable No. 255 and others following a session at gambling with them.

The policeman, when confronted with the charge denied it and when the shift of Chinese patrolmen was paraded to be sent on duty at 6 a.m. they refused to go until they had called upon Chief Inspector O'Toole for the constable's release. After the seriousness of the case had been explained to them, however, they went on duty. The shift coming off duty mad a similar demonstration, when marshalled for dismissal, but departed when the matter had been explained to them.

Total Abstinence League Holds Its Annual Meeting

At the annual general meeting of the Men's Total Abstinence League held Friday, at 73 Szechuen Road, Mr. Isaac Mason, the retiring President, presided. The annual report and statement of accounts for the past year were adopted. The policy and aims of the league were discussed at length.

Officers and a committee were appointed as follows: President, Mr. W. M. Cameron; Vice Presidents, Mr. Gilbert E. Peet and Captain H. MacKinnon; Hon. Secretary, Mr. N. S. Jacobs; honorary Treasurer, Rev. C. M. Myers; Committee, Messrs. W. A. B. Leach, C. J. Passikides, H. Eugene Davis and J. M. Espey.

The annual report reviewed the work of the league during 1920, especially as regards public meetings, and the publishing of the league's organ "The Bulletin," which is influencing some readers toward abstinence.

In December the league's committee addressed a letter to the Chief of Chinese Police in Chapei urging that the "Trenches" be closed or the activities restricted, and another letter was sent to the Council in regard to the renewal of bar licenses, protesting in particular against the renewal of licenses to two bars within the Settlement.

Nine new members joined the the present membership at over league during the session, putting 100.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paragoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," & "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."

Seek To Develop Interest In Automobile Club Of China

Membership Grows But Few Turn Out For Annual Meeting; Reasons Discussed; New Committee Named

The problems of increased membership and increased interest in the Automobile Club of China formed the principal topics of discussion yesterday at the organisation's annual general meeting, which was meagerly attended.

In opening the meeting Mr. B. Firth, chairman of the general committee, commented upon the attendance and ascribed its smallness to a general lack of interest among motor owners of Shanghai. Following the chairman's address the matter was taken up by Mr. A. H. Hallam, who urged a system of propaganda to arouse enthusiasm and brought forward the suggestion of acquiring some location where members might congregate and engage in discussions pertinent to the interests and influence of the Club. Others of the three or four non-official members present added suggestions and these the chairman assured them would have the attention of the new committee. The general feeling, however, was that the average motor car owner in Shanghai looks little beyond his own personal problems and does not visualise the benefits to be gained for the fraternity by concerted expressions of opinion or concerted support of projects of motor interests.

MEMBERSHIP NOW 371

The membership of the Club in the past year has risen from something over 200 to a total of 371. This was generally regarded as due to the fact that the membership subscription has been cut from $10 to $5 and Mr. C. R. Burkill, vice-chairman of the committee, hit the nail on the head when he aptly, if somewhat cynically, remarked:

"When we asked a prospective member $10 for a subscription he wanted to know what benefit he derived and we were embarrassed for an answer. When we ask him for $5 and he propounds the same query we are enabled to counter with 'What do you expect for $5?'"

In his speech prefacing the moving of the report and accounts Mr. Firth touched on various of the Club's activities during the past year and pointed out that much that is done by the committee in its furtherance of motor interests here may not be brought up at the annual meeting, which constitutes a handicap in the matter of expanding the membership and at the same time does not give evidence of the efforts of a really hard-working committee.

Matters which have been before the committee during the past year include the "road to the hills" project, the problem of maintenance of the Woosung Road, the matter of illicit commissions on motor car sales, the training of chauffeurs, the question of good roads for China generally and other features in connection with which the Club has provided incentive or exerted a beneficial influence.

WOOSUNG ROAD UPKEEP

As regards the upkeep of the Woosung road, the chairman stated that he felt if motor owners wanted the thoroughfare for use it was only right that they should pay for its maintenance. Many did contribute their fees, but, on the other hand, many did not. He felt, however, that if the tax were considered exorbitant, a proper approach of the Chinese officials might result in a modification—if assurance could be given that all the motor owners utilising the road would pay their proper assessments.

Touching upon the road to the hills, he reported that there was little to add this year, except that he did not think the Council had lost sight of the matter, but were bearing it in mind. He stated that now, in addition to the affiliation with the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain, affiliations were being sought with the Automobile Club of America, the Automobile Club of France and the International Automobile Club. The matter of illicit commissions, brought before the committee last fall, resulted in a meeting of representatives of the trade. No information of subsequent meetings had been received but hopes were entertained that the move might bear fruit.

Mr. Firth also commented upon the opening of the Municipal chauffeurs' school, emphasising its benefits in the training of owners' chauffeurs along mechanical lines and, particularly in traffic control and regulation. The institution of this school, the Club felt, also reflected credit upon itself, since the Club first thought of and financially aided the Y.M.C.A. school which was the forerunner of the Council's establishment.

WANTS MEETING PLACE

Mr. Hallam's suggestions included that of the erection—somewhere on the Rubicon or Hungjao Road, or in any other suitable location—of a matshed where motorists might congregate for refreshment and discussions during the summer months. This, he felt, would lead to an arousing of interest in the organisation and an expansion in membership. Woosung was mentioned as another possible location for a gathering place, as was also the Rubicon Club, which, it is understood, the committee will ask permission to sell at the next meeting. These suggestions and others, as mentioned, were promised consideration by the new committee, which consists of:

Messrs. B. Firth, C. R. Burkill, R. T. Peyton-Griffin, H. von Heidenstam, G. Osaka, Kyat Tong and H. M. Logan.

The chairman intimated that members would be requested to drive their cars, or allow them to be driven, in the procession which is to be filmed shortly to aid the good roads movement in China.

LAUNCH STEAMER ANNING AT NEW ENGINEERING DOCK

Vessel Will Be In Upper Yangtsze Trade Ichang To Chungking

The steamship Anning, built for service on the upper Yangtsze between Ichang and Chungking, was launched yesterday afternoon at the Yangtszepoo Dock of the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Company.

The vessel is designed to carry 300 tons cargo and is expected to steam up to 13½ knots. It has as fine an entrance forward as possible and the fore foot is cut away so as to avoid the vessel taking a dangerous sheer in the rapids.

The tunnels in which the propellers work are strongly constructed and well stiffened to stand the extra strain caused by the propellers when caught in the rapids. At the aft end of each tunnel an improved balanced flap is fitted and the stern is overhung in order to protect the rudders.

The vessel is fitted with one foremast ond two high funnels so as to work as much as possible under natural draught. On the upper deck aft first class accommodation is provided for Chinese passengers, large saloon and eight two berth cabins. Aft of the funnel casing there will be two deck houses separated by a passage the forward block containing six second class cabins and Compradore's cabin and office.

GOOD ACCOMMODATIONS

The after block consists of a large saloon and five cabins with four berths to each.

The forward end of the hurricane deck is fitted up as flying bridge and directly aft of this bridge will be situated the Captain's cabin.

Aft of the Captain's cabin will be six first class European staterooms, each with two berths, and one cabin for Chinese stewards. On the same deck is accommodation for the chief engineer and chief officer, also two extra state rooms, chief steward's cabin pantry and bath room. Aft of the engine room skylight will be the first class European saloon.

Accommodation is provided on the main deck for steerage passengers, Chinese engine room staff, firemen, and sailors and the tunnel compartments are fitted up for cooks and boys.

ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

A complete electric light installation is fitted throughout the vessel the generating plant consisting of an oil engine direct coupled to a dynamo which will make the electric lighting system independent of the main engines and boilers.

The propelling machinery consists of two sets of triple expansion surface condensing engines working on three cranks, capable of developing 2,000 I. h.p. The engines are designed for lightness and specially balanced for running at high revolutions. All the engine room auxiliaries are driven by separate steam engines.

The general particulars of the Anning are as follows:

Length of hull	184'0"
Length overall	190'0"
Beam moulded	30'0"

Following the launching, toasts were drunk to the new steamer, to Mrs. H. E. Arnold, who christened the vessel; the owners, An Lee Steamship Company. Mr. Arnold and Mr. Brankston, the former representing the owners, and the latter speaking for the builders, made short addresses.

MANY SHUT SHOP IN OBSERVANCE OF HUMILIATION DAY

Flag Flown At Half-Mast On Anniversary Of Japan's Demands

Shanghai presented a semi deserted appearance yesterday as many shops, schools and other establishments closed their doors in observation of the "Day of National Disgrace." Otherwise there was no obvious demonstration, though various of the guilds and unions held meetings in connection with the anniversary and students congregated at several points in Chinese territory to discuss the nation's wrongs.

The anniversary was the sixth of the signing of the "twenty-one demands" presented President Yuan Shih-k'ai by Japan and street unions, commercial organizations and other societies for the past week or more had been circularising their members to memorialise the date by shutting up shop and flying the national emblem at half-mast. Along the principal thoroughfares in the Settlement a large percentage of establishments—barring those engaged in foreign business—were shuttered, while the five-barred flag drooped disconsolately in the rain at mid-staff.

Upon the closed shop fronts were stuck posters bearing such legends as:

"We suspend business today on account of National humiliation."

"We patiently tolerate our sufferings."

"We are spending the day at home to meditate over the National disgrace."

"May 9.—Don't forget the National Disgrace!"

Elaborate precautions had been taken by the military and police in Chinese territory, many rumors of mass meetings and demonstrations having gone abroad, but, so far as could be learned, there were no serious disturbances.

The day brought a slight recrudescence of the Japanese boycott propaganda in some sections of the city and the police erased a number of chalked exhortations not to buy Japanese goods from sidewalks and shopfronts.

Customs Inquires Regarding Imports Of Copper Coins

The matter of elimination of light-weight copper coins here has been taken up with the provincial authorities by the Chinese Superintendent of Customs, according to Chinese reports.

It is stated that Superintendent Yao has sent a communication to the Civil Governor setting forth that in consequence of instructions and in co-operation with the Commissioner of Customs, he has been searching for smuggled ecpper coins, the quantity of which are seized, however, being small. He states that large quantities of coins are being imported with huchows issued bby government mints. In addition to this large quantities of coins are imported to Shanghai by train. He asks instructions as to whether importations shall be prohibited regardless of huchows.

Sub-Inspector Dunne Going Home, Honored

A farewell dinner was given by the men of Hongkew Police Station at the station last night for sub-Inspector T. Dunne, who is sailing for England tomorrow on leave. At the conclusion of dinner Sub-Inspector C. Powell spoke briefly and made the presentation to the departing officer of a gold wrist watch as a token of the esteem in which he is held by his comrades. Sub-Inspector Dunne has been a member of the Shanghai Police Department for the past 12 years.

Open Offices Here For New Motor Road Transport Project

It is reported in Chinese circles that work is shortly to be commenced on a motor road between Shanghai and Chuensha which is being promoted by a company known as the "Motor Service Company." The company has opened offices in the Hen-Dah Cotton Mill Hong in the Sai Woo Li alleyway, off Kiangse Road. It is proposed to issue 2,000 shares of stock at $20 a share and most of the issue is reported as already subscribed. Messrs. Another Man Slain By Armed Robbers

Chinese Shot To Death By Gang In Hongkew District

Armed robbers claimed another victim Sunday night when a Chinese was killed during a raid on a dwelling house at 127 South Li Hongkew Ka, in the Hongkew District.

The robbery was committed by four men, two of whom were armed with revolvers. The residence was that of a wharf worker and the intruders found only his wife and sister-in-law and a friend in the place. The women were stripped of two pairs of bangles, valued at $300, one of the robbers firing several shots into the wall to terrify the victims. In the meantime, one of the armed men who was stationed as a sentinel outside door, saw a man coming up the alleyway and shot him through the stomach. The victim proved to be a wharf coolie who lived just across the way from the house which was being held up. He was taken to hospital but died within a few hours.

China's Special Envoy Sees Premier

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 8.—Mr. Lloyd George, in the course of his speech at Maidstone, referring to the world-wide trade stagnation, said that on Friday he had had the privilege of receiving Mr. Chu Chi-chien, one of the most eminent statesmen China had produced and a singularly able man.

Mr. Chu Chi-chien had told him the Premier stated, that business was at a standstill in China, which country wanted machinery and other goods from Great Britain, but could not buy them, as the present rates of exchange prevented business dealings.

London, May 8.—Dr. C. H. Wang has arrived in London to represent China on the Amendments Commission of the League of Nations.

JAPS HOLDING UP TRAINS IN SIBERIA

(Dalta New Agency)

Vladivostok, May 5.—The officer in command of one of the trains carrying Railway materials and detained at Nikolsk by Japanese authorities, has wired to representative of Minister of Transport in Vladivostok that there is no hope for trains to be allowed to pass by Japanese, materials are being ransacked so that he considers it necessary to move his trains back to the first river station.

The chairman of the Russian delegation of the Russo-Japanese Conciliatory Committee, Popoff had a lengthy interview with the chief of the Japanese staff at Vladivostok. Popoff drew attention to the fact that smuggling and the illegal sale of arms and munitions of war is being carried on on a large scale in Vladivostok. The Russian authorities are aware of places where arms are sold secretly but cannot stop it.

Popoff suggested that searches for arms be made by Russian and Japanese militia. The Japanese chief of staff consented to this only on condition that searches be also made in Russian Government Offices. This Popoff refused to agree to. He considered it an encroachment upon Russian Sovereignity.

Seamen's Case Up In American Court

Continuance Denied In Suit Of Allway vs. Canadian Robert Dollar Co.

Motion for a continuance of four months in the case of Allway versus the Robert Dollar Company of Canada was denied yesterday in the United States Court for China by Judge C. S. Lobingier. The action is a test case of one seaman on behalf of members of the crew of the steamer Esther Dollar who were set ashore here after it was alleged they had created a disturbance on board the vessel.

The motion for continuance was made by Mr. P. M. Linebarger, representing the plaintiff after a question had been raised about the text of the articles that had been signed by the crew of the Esther Dollar and when it was ascertained that the original papers are in England.

A question that has been raised in the case by Mr. R. T. Bryan of Fleming, Davies and Bryan, who is appearing for the defendant company, is the contention that the court cannot try a case between a British crew and a Canadian Company.

It is alleged by the plaintiff in the case that in returning the men to England they were crowded into a single cabin of the steamer Tamaba Maru with Asiatics.

The single witness heard yesterday was Frank Brooke, who had been saloon steward on the Esthor Dollar. He said when the men were to be shipped home they had been offered "Asiatic steerage" on the Tamba Maru.

Formation Rumored Of Assassin Groups

Chinese reports tell of the formation here of "assassination groups" by Bolshevist agents for the purpose of doing away with prominent men. According to these reports the men go about in bands of three, equipped with bombs and other instruments of death and are despatched from Shanghai to various points throughout the country. It is stated that the local Military Governor, having received notification of the existence of the society, is conducting an investigation.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

May 9, 1921

Spot bar silver was up 3/4d. and forward 5/8d. in London on Saturday. The New York price advanced to 62½ cents and the London-New York cross rate is 398½.

The official rates here today were unchanged from Saturday with the exception of the Gold Dollar rate which was raised to 64¾.

The market opened steady with business in Sterling done as high as 3/5¼ and in Gold Dollars at 68½. However, a fair demand set in and as there was no cover offering in the way of bills, rates weakened off considerably, the market closing easy with no sellers of Sterling at better than 3/4½ and of Gold Dollars at 67½.

The rise in silver in London on Saturday is attributed to buying by China and bear covering. Further purchases of silver by China are not likely to take place at present and with India the only possible buyer there seems little reason to expect any further rise in silver. In fact a drop from present prices would not be unexpected.

Mail advices from the United States are to the effect that there are very large stocks of silver in San Francisco. These stocks are estimated at anywhere from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 ounces and no doubt they would be placed on the market in case of any further rise in price. Higher rates can hardly be looked for, therefore, for the time being.

Opium And Famine

AT the final sitting of the Anti-Opium Commission of the League of Nations at Geneva, May 7, a movement was launched to start an inquiry into the opium situation in China, "in order to verify the information already received, and with a view to the submission of a report on the subject to the next meeting of the commission which will be held next February."

This, to our mind, is one of the most important decisions of the Commission at this session. It means that an investigation of opium growing throughout China is to be held and we hope it will be strong enough and broad enough to catch in its net every guilty official in the land. For it is our firm belief that opium cannot be grown in China without the connivance of the official element in each province, and every official who thus has stultified himself for gain is a traitor to his country and to his people and as such should be brought to book.

The fact that the report is to be made by next February gives us to assume that the investigation will be started at once and inasmuch as the guilty officials are violating the laws of China, even if they are not violating an international agreement, leads to the further assumption that officials in provinces where opium is grown this summer will be made to suffer. The League of Nations is the most powerful association of peoples ever formed. One of its objects is so to control the growth and regulate the sale of the narcotic as to suppress the traffic in it save for medicinal purposes. If the League succeeds in doing this and fails in all else it will still be worth while.

Only yesterday we received a letter from Kweichow appealing for help for the starving in that province. There appears to be plenty of opium and but little food out there. The officials permitted the planting of poppy and the people planted it instead of maize. You will find the letter on this page today.

We believe that the activities of the Anti-Opium Association which held its meeting in Shanghai last week, have had much to do with the decision reached at Geneva. It will be recalled that Mr. A. E. Blanco, director of the association in Peking proposed that a cablegram be sent to Geneva outlining the situation here and urging legislation to prevent the importation of the enormous stocks of morphia stored in Tokio and Yokohama in order to assist China in conquering the drug habit. And the Rev. Issac Mason, Secretary, declared in his report "that it cannot be too strongly insisted upon that China's case is very weak while she allows opium to be freely grown throughout the country."

Here is the crux of the matter. China is appealing to the world for help in eradicating this dread habit, while at the same moment the Chinese officials are permitting the drug to be grown and the habit to become more firmly fixed upon the Chinese people. This is the situation which the powerful League of Nations proposes to investigate and it will be well for the guilty officials to take notice.

Giving and taking advice is always a matter of some trepidation. Wise sayings are cheap and cost nothing, and are often to be had without the asking. But here and there among the great writers of the ages we occasionally come across a word, a phrase, or a sentence, that lightens up gloomy thoughts, and allows the sunshine of happiness to do its willing task. Here let me give you lines culled from the garden of literature, where bloom the authors that never die.

British Visitors Guests Of Chinese Organisations

Co-operation between Chinese and foreign interests for the betterment of China was the keynote of addresses given Sunday evening to a number of British guests by the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, the Chinese Bankers Association, the Native Bankers Association and the Chinese Cotton Mill Owners Association.

The dinner was given at the Chamber of Commerce on North Honan Road and those present included Sir Beilby Alston, Sir Edward Stubbs, Vice-Admiral Sir A. Duff, General Kirkpatrick, Sir Everard Fraser, Messrs. H. H. Fox, A. G. Stephen, G. H. Stitt, E. F. Mackay, J. Johnstone, A. Brooke Smith, C. C. Nieh (who presided), Hsu Yuan (Commissioner for Foreign Affairs), Chang Nieh-yuen, Y. S. Ziar, Sung Hang-chang, K. P. Chen, Chin Jun-chin, C. T. Siu, Chao Chin, Ching Yar and Yung Chun.

EXTENDS WELCOME

After healths of King George and the President of China had been pledged the Chairman on behalf of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce extended welcome to the guests and proposed a toast to them. The Chairman said in part:

With regard to co-operation between us there is no lack of evidence in Shanghai that efforts are being made to foster this spirit. Apart from commercial concerns serious attempts have been made by us to get together socially and in sports and the result will, we hope, make for continued friendship between us. We cannot be far wrong in our belief that, knowing us and our people as they do, such gentlemen as Sir Edward Stubbs, Admiral Duff, General Kirkpatrick, Sir Everard and other gentlemen are our true friends, that second to their own country they wish well to China and our people and that as far as lies in their power they will deal with our people in a fair and square manner in all their duties and relations.

SIR BEILBY'S ADDRESS

The address of Sir Beilby Alston, the British Minister was as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Your Excellencies and Gentlemen,

I am deeply sensible of the honor which you have done me in inviting me here tonight. It is very gratifying to me to find myself the guest of an assembly so truly representative of Chinese men of commerce, including such influential bodies as the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, the Chinese and Native Bankers Associations, and the Chinese Cotton Mill Owners Association, and I cannot adequately express my appreciation of your kindness in extending to me your hospitality and in receiving me so cordially this evening.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce is, I know, a very representative body of Chinese merchants in this great commercial center, and it affords me much pleasure to learn that they are on friendly terms with foreign Chambers, and especially, if you will excuse the British Minister for saying so, with the British Chamber. I sincerely trust that this co-operation may long continue for the mutual benefit of both Chambers.

It is easy to preach the virtues of co-operation, but in practice it means any amount of real hard work, and a spirit of give-and-take, which it is not always easy to cultivate. But I can assure you that the British people in this country whose representative I have the honor to be, are genuinely anxious to solve these difficulties in a friendly spirit. It is a source of deep regret to me to find that business in Shanghai, as elsewhere, is at present bad, largely due, as we all know, to the world-wide depression resulting from the long years of war, but I trust that the Chinese and foreign merchants in this country will do all they can to help each other out of their present difficulties and that they will not have to wait very long for that revival of trade which many good judges confidently anticipate.

DRAWS CONTRAST

An interesting work on the history of Shanghai has recently been shown to me, the result of the long labors of Mr. George Lanning, whose name is probably well-known to you all. The frontispiece of this book is a picture of the Shanghai Bund 60 years ago. I would ask you to contrast this picture with the Bund as it is today and as it will be when the buildings now under construction are completed, and reflect that the modern city on the banks of the Whangpoo would never have grown to be one of the most important trading centers of the world had it not been for real co-operation between foreigners and Chinese in this place. There is, I understand, a tendency among the Chinese today, especially among the group of able, progressive, and and patriotic men, who have done so much to form public opinion, to think that the time has now come when they can dispense to a great extent with foreign assistanse in the development of the country's resources on modern lines. I cannot help telling you that I am convinced from what I have seen in the past few years that this is a mistaken policy which, if persisted in, must retard China's progress and will inevitably mean the building up of her trade and industries on insecure foundations.

The Chinese might well take this city as it stands today as an example of the value of that co-operation of which I speak, and during the period of reconstruction which is now opening, invite foreign assistance and advice in the development of the country, and in particular, in the construction of her roads and railways, the conservancy of her waterways, and the exploitation of her mineral, and other natural resources. I do not say that she should turn for this assistance to Great Britain, or any one country.

If China will let it be known that her sole object is to secure the best foreign expert advice and assistance, she will draw to herself the best brains in the old and new worlds to set her feet firmly on the path which will eventually lead her to her rightful place in the Council of Nations.

THE NEW MINT

I feel sure that the important part now being played by the Chinese banking group in the financial affairs of China must bear good fruit and that the foreign bankers will welcome this movement and readily co-operate with their Chinese friends in doing what they can to place the finances of this country on a sound footing and render the valuable assistance it is in their power to give to the trade and industries of China. In this connection I should like to mention the proposed new mint at Shanghai which, if it is to be a success, and attain the objects of its promoters, must be managed in such a way as to command the entire confidence of both Chinese and foreign banks of all nationalities. Otherwise it will be merely an undesirable addition to the number of mints which at present exist and will do little or nothing to solve the urgent currency problem of this country. As a familiar example of the dangers arising from ill-regulated treatment of the question of the nation's currency, I need only mention the serious position in which you now find yourselves in consequence of the influx into Shanghai of light-weight copper coins.

I feel sure that the Chinese bankers present here tonight will use the influence which they undoubtedly possess to induce the government of China to place the currency of the country on a sound financial basis by the only sure method, which is to eliminate all independent and therefore superfluous mints, and to concentrate the issue of the national coinage of China in the hands of one central mint such as the proposed mint in Shanghai which, if it is to serve this high purpose, must, as regards efficiency and honesty of administration, be on a level with the national mints of the great Powers.

As you know the main object of my visit to Shanghai was to lay the foundation-stone of the new Hongkong & Shanghai Bank and I have been much impressed by the universal testimony to the confidence felt by Chinese and foreigners alike in this great Banking Corporation. This is a real compliment in a country where banking was in full swing when our forbears had not progressed beyond the elementary stage of business by barter.

I greatly appreciate the inclusion among my hosts tonight of the Cotton Mill Owners Association. I am aware of the difficulties which they have recently experienced in obtaining machinery ordered in the United Kingdom, but I feel sure that they will realise the abnormal conditions with which our manufacturers have had to contend since the war and will make all possible allowances. I trust that better times are coming in my country in this respect, in spite of the present unfortunate coal strike, and that all machinery ordered for the Chinese mills will soon arrive at its destination.

As my predecessor, Sir John Jordan, once pointed out, there is no good reason why we British should regard the mills and factories that are springing up all over China as dangerous to our own trade, because the development of China's industries and her increased purchasing power must make the Chinese better customers of ours than they have ever been in the past.

Gentlemen, I thank you again for your hospitality and I take this opportunity you have so kindly afforded me of wishing all success to those bulwarks of China's prosperity, her banks and her Chambers of Commerce, and to those pioneers of her industries, the Association of Cotton Mill Owners.

OPIUM AND FAMINE

Anping, Kweichow,
April 18, 1921.

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: I crave a space in your columns to bring before the notice of the public the famine conditions that prevail in the North-western portion of the province of Kweichow. A big proportion of the people in this part live on maize, and, owing on the one hand to the impoverishment of the soil through the planting of the opium poppy and on the other of the excessive rains last summer, the maize crop was a failure. Hundreds of thousands are, or soon will be, faced with starvation. Miao, I-chia and Chinese are affected. I have just returned from an itineration in the Tsingchen, Kiensi, and Tsichin districts, and have passed the corpses on the roadside of those who have died of starvation. Hundreds of families are living on wild roots dug from the hills.

The Provincial Departments of Finance and Administration have issued a circular to all the towns in the province, asking for donations for relief work. The circular states that 17 Hsien covering an area of over 2,000 li are affected by the famine conditions; that no record of such a famine in Kweichow has been known for 500 years; that in some places only about one hundredth or one fiftieth of the usual maize crop has been reaped; that the people cannot feed their animals or children; that in every 500 li only 300 families have barely enough to sustain life; that the present famine far exceeds the Weilin famine of two years ago.

In the Tatinghsien there are tens of thousands who are starving. The missionaries there inform me that a thousand Christian families in that district alone are at the point of starvation. While the Chinese are giving out grain every few days and although rice and maize is ordered to be sold at half price to the poor, yet the proportion is inadequate by far to meet the needs. "Many cases of death by starvation are reported. Famine fever is raging everywhere." The missionaries there have taken in about fifty orphans to feed—only a small proportion of the destitute children in that part. Much land is being left uncultivated while the people wander in search of food.

The area between Pichieh and Tsingchen seems to be the most seriously affected. While the conditions in Kweichow do not reach the dimensions of the famine in the north of China, I might mention that some of the poor Miao Christians, in districts where famine conditions prevail, have given of their poverty to the needs of their fellow-countrymen in North China.

We will need $25 per person to feed adults till harvest. The next few months will be the most distressing unless immediate and speedy relief is forthcoming. Any donations towards the Kweichow Famine Relief may be sent to the Treasurer, China Inland Mission, Shanghai, who will forward the funds for distribution. Thanking you for the opportunity to make known this need, I am, Yours faithfully,

ARNOLIS HAYMAN.

THE WILY COOLIE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: I think it may interest some of your readers who rent boxes at the Chinese Post Office to know that an illicit use is being made of them by the coolies who are sent to collect correspondence. I frequently see letters as they are taken from the box scrutinised by the coolie. Some he transfers to his pocket unopened, some he opens and the remainder are put in his bag. The authorities are in no way to blame for this; their responsibility ceases when they have delivered the letters to the box. Yours Truly,

MRS. R. M. DE SOUZA

Death of Mrs. Maria Rosario dos Remedios de Souza at the General Hospital, Shanghai, occurred at 2:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She was the wife of Mr. R. M. de Souza, Shanghai business man. She was 43 years of age.

Mrs. de Souza had been ill for two years and had been in a critical condition at the hospital for eight days before her demise. She is survived by her husband, three sons who live at Hongkong and one daughter who is a resident of Shanghai.

Mass is to be said by Rev. Father Van Dosseleare, S. J., at the Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Nanzing Road, this morning and the burial service will be held at Bubbling Well Chapel this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Mrs. de Souza, who was the daughter of a wealthy Portuguese rice merchant in the Philippines, where she was born, came to Hongkong when eight years of age. She came to Shanghai about two years ago.

MR. HELENO FERNANDES

Mr. Heleno Fernandes, of the Russo Asiatic Bank, and senior sergeant in the Portuguese Company, S.V.C., died at the General Hospital at 9 o'clock on Sunday evening, from an attack of pneumonia.

In the untimely death of Mr. Fernandes the Portuguese community suffers a very severe loss.

The deceased was in good health up to last Friday, and working as usual. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, however, on his way to the office he felt unwell, and returning home immediately consulted Dr. O'Hara, who advised him to go at once to the General Hospital. Up to a few minutes before his death he retained consciousness and was talking to friends about his work and the volunteers.

He was one of the original members of the Portuguese Company and was in active service some 15 years ago. He was only 39 years old, and in his youth had been a keen sportsman. In 1910 he was one of the representatives of the Portuguese team in the International Walking competition. As senior Sergeant of the Portuguese Company he was very popular among his men, and at the Russo Asiatic Bank, where he had been working since 1910, he was highly esteemed and respected, both by his comrades and superiors. He leaves a widow and a son.

The funeral, with military honors, will start at the Hongkew Catholic Church this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Burial will be at the Pehsienjao Cemetery.

JAPAN'S PRINCE
(Reuter's Service)

London, May 9.—The Japanese warships entered Portsmouth dockyard at eight o'clock this morning in bright sunshine. The Prince of Wales then went on board the "Katori" and warmly greeted Prince Hirohito, whom he conducted ashore at half past ten. Here His Imperial Highness was received by the Lord Lieutenant of Hampshire, Major General Seely, together with several naval and military dignitaries, and the Mayor of Portsmouth who presented him with an address on hebalf of the Corporation.

In welcoming Prince Hirohito, the Prince of Wales expressed a hope that his visit would consolidate and further strengthen friendly feeling between Japan and Great Britain, for the good of both countries and the peace of the world.

The two princes then boarded a special train for London while all the ships in the harbor and the shore batteries fired a royal salute, and the bands in attendance played the Japanese national anthem.

The following is the text of a message to the British nation which Crown Prince Hirohito gave to Reuter's correspondent on board the Katori:

"After a long voyage, lasting over two months, I am extremely delighted to land in these beautiful shores of our noble ally. The great achievements of the British people in the past for the progress of world civilisation have long been the object of my profound admiration. The moral grandeur to which they rose in the last great war, and the brilliant success with which their indomitable efforts were crowned, coupled with the fact that our two Island Empires have been so closely united by the strong ties of an alliance, has deepend the sense of my admiration for the British people, and created in me the keenest desire to visit this country one day.

"Naturally I feel most happy that my long-cherished hope is now realised. I have come along the world's highway from East to West and had the very good fortune of calling at Hongkong, Singapore, Colombo, Port Said, Cairo, Malta and Gibraltar—practically all British ports. In all these places a hearty welcome was extended to me, not merely by the British authorities, but by the whole population under their governance, and I was profoundly touched by all the marks of friendly attention and hospitality which were lavished by them upon myself. To them my sincerest thanks are due.

"Short as my sojourn in this country will be, I trust I shall be enabled to carry away with me a very pleasant and useful memory of my first visit."
